

Conditions of participation for the Beethoven course in Positano

Only candidates under the age of 35 who have already demonstrated their artistic accomplishments in public concerts are admitted to the course.

With the application a brief curriculum vitae must be included. The candidates should be able to play five sonatas from the three different periods, as well as two of Beethoven's piano concertos to concert standard. The chosen programme must be sent with the application.

Because of the generosity of Wilhelm Kempff and his foundation it is possible to provide these courses free of charge, but the participants must provide travel and living expenses.

In order to keep the course as individual as possible, the number of students is limited to 8.
